

Ideas from harvardhomemaker.com

GET OUTSIDE (SIMPLE ACTIVITIES)

Campfire - hot dogs & s'mores Catch fireflies Lemonade stand Have a picnic lunch (we usually do this in our backyard) Fun in the driveway as a family (play basketball, jump rope, 4-square, etc.) Swimming Ride bikes Take a walk Skip rocks Go to a park/playground Make an obstacle course Family water balloon fight Go on a scavenger hunt Take a hike Fun with sidewalk chalk (make a Hopscotch board) Fly a kite Go to a beach Play wiffleball, kickball, etc. as a family Play an outdoor game (capture the flag, kick the can, flashlight tag, etc.) Backyard games (bocce ball, corn hole, ladder golf, etc.) Family "tournament" (ping pong, backyard games, whatever you have available) Frisbee golf Run through a sprinkler Slip + Slide Go strawberry picking

GET OUTSIDE (MORE ELABORATE ACTIVITES)

Water-skiing or tubing Paddle-boarding Kayaking or canoeing White-water rafting Do a ropes course/zip-lining Horseback riding Boat ride Fishing

Tennis or pickleball

STAY HOME/RAINY DAY

Watch a movie

Bake cookies

Tie-dye shirts

Have a sleepover in the family room

Build a fort

Play cards

Work on a craft or project (you could have a tradition – painting rocks, for example, and add them to your garden each year)

Make stepping stones (this could also be a tradition each summer – you could keep adding to your collection)

At-home spa day (can you tell I have four daughters?)

Read a book aloud as a group throughout the summer

Family game night

Make a special dinner together (maybe your kids take turns helping to cook)

Do a puzzle

OUTINGS

Go to a movie at the theater

Go through the Dairy Queen drive-through in your pajamas one night (this is always a hit for our crew)

Visit Mom/Dad at work and go out for lunch

Go out for ice cream

Go to a baseball game (we have a pro team in Pittsburgh, so we go to a Pirates game)

Outdoor movie (our community shows them on a big screen each summer)

Mini golf

Amusement park

Water park

Museum

Zoo

Go to a play or show

Go out for a nice dinner or brunch (maybe everyone dresses up)

Go out for donuts one morning

Play golf (or go to a driving range)

Shopping day (we do this at the end of the summer for school clothes and/or school supplies)

Camping

Bowling

Go to the library

See fireworks

Take a trip

Explore what your area has to offer!